

Information that is important to all Brides,

!!!!!!!!!!BUYER BEWARE!!!!!!!!!!

The manufacturers of the bridal and formal lines we represent at Dior Bridal Salon have made us aware that internet sites are using their photographs to sell gowns. Research has been done to prove that these are not authentic gowns and legal action is pending. Most of these illegal factories will be shut down before the gowns are shipped and customers will be out their money. The currency transaction takes place in China. It is impossible to name all the internet sites because new ones pop up every day.

These web sites are not selling the gowns pictured. They are copies, just like designer purse replicas, with inferior construction, fit and sub-standard fabric. What they are selling is illegal in this country, but difficult to prosecute because of the Chinese government. All of the manufacturers suggest that you contact them or an authorized Bridal Salon before making the most important purchase for your wedding. You are choosing the bridal gown of your dreams; none of us in the wedding industry want it to become a nightmare. Remember, when the deal is too good to be true, it always is.

Sincerely,
